

$20,000 RAISED FOR FELLOWSHIP BY CLEMENCEAU

Money Received for Lectures in U. S. Will Be Used for Exchange Students.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—By The Associated Press.—Former Premier Clemenceau's American visit added $20,000 to the American Field Service Fund Fellowship, Stephen Bonsal, who managed the tour, announced today. The amount is the surplus of money received from lectures and newspaper articles by the "Tiger" after defraying the expenses of his trip.

The war-time premier, it was explained, was unwilling to accept financial assistance for his mission and as his own means were inadequate he made the lectures to pay his way. He expressed the desire that any surplus be devoted in memory of his student years in the United States to fellowships which are intended among other things to stimulate friendship between France and America through the education in each country of young men from the other.

The field service was organized and directed by Representative A. P. Andrews of Massachusetts to enable young Americans to do ambulance work in France before the United States had entered the war. It was in recognition of this that M. Clemenceau selected as the beneficiary of his tour the American Field Service Fund Fellowship, organized after the American field service had been disbanded with the end of the war, to perpetuate the names of 127 members by creating a like number of scholarships to send young men of each country to universities in the other. Only thirty have been established, however, because the greater part of the fund's total set at $3,500,000 remains to be raised through contributions. "The Tiger's" surprise it was announced would make "Clemenceau scholarships" available to deserving students.

In expressing his interest in the aims of the American Field Service Fund Fellowship, according to Mr. Bonsal, M. Clemenceau voiced a desire that the young men of France and of America "learn the lessons of life together." He was especially eager that French youths should "digest the precepts of democracy through playing football and other American games" and become "definitely a part of the college life."

Various agencies whose offers of financial assistance for the American tour were refused because of the ample provisions of his contract, the "Tiger" suggested, could, if willing, help toward his great aim by contributing those funds to the fellowships.

The Tiger's arrival in France yesterday recalled a presentment he had voiced that he would die in this country. Mr. Bonsal, observing his happiness upon the completion of his last lecture in Chicago, questioned him as to his emotions, and M. Clemenceau, telling of his presentment in France that death would overtake him in the United States explained:

"I was afraid if that were so that I should not be able to finish my task here. But it is ended now and I don't care two pins."

M. Clemenceau's American tour was complete with incidents which touched his sense of humor. According to Mr. Bonsal he was not offended by congressional political or newspaper attacks but enjoyed them and welcomed them as giving him an opportunity to make roasts. The only incident he regretted, his manager said, was what he characterized as the desecration of the tomb of Lincoln during his pilgrimage of reverence there when photographers created considerable disturbance with flashes and flashlight exposures. "I was forced to hasten to the open air."

Chapter 3

Jack took one look inside the tree trunk and then said, "Why, the passageway isn't big enough for my dog and me." "Well, it will be," said the little porcupine, "if you will keep repeating, 'every minute, while I am in it, the tree will grow larger and larger.' Then the porcupine left.

Jack walked into the opening and started saying what the porcupine had suggested. And sure enough, the inside of the tree started to get bigger. Shortly there was plenty of room and Jack took a flashlight out of his pocket and started down a pair of steps and along a queer winding path.

This is just like the inside of a cave, thought the little adventurer, as he made his way along. Flip clung close to his heels. Suddenly Jack came to a door. There wasn't a key on it, but as Flip pushed his nose against it, it swung inward at the bottom and outward at the top. (Continued.)

FARMERS' LOANS PROVE BENEFICIAL

Report of War Finance Corporation Claims Loan Plan Successful.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 21.—The American farmer has demonstrated that when properly financed he can weather the worst economic storms, the War Finance Corporation declared in its annual report sent to Congress today. The report set forth that 41 per cent of the money advanced to the agricultural industry had been repaid either in advance of maturity or when due.

Advances by the corporation saved the industry many millions of dollars, the report declared, explaining that the corporation's offices believe its activities have proven as beneficial in the restoration of confidence as the actual pouring of cash into places where credit was tightest. The loans had made it possible for thousands of farmers to handle their products in an orderly fashion; it was added and the confidence instilled in them through the knowledge that money was available acted as a stabilizer, the value of which, the report said, could only be estimated.

"It is impossible," the report continued, "to estimate the full effect of the aid given by the corporation to the live stock industry, because calamities that are averted can never be measured."

"The effect of the corporation's activity on the live stock industry was typical of that on many other phases of agriculture," it was added; "and satisfaction with the assistance rendered has been expressed to the corporation in countless ways."

The report added that the gradual decrease in the number of applications for loans further reflected the general benefit which the corporation's operation have had on the agricultural credit situation. Advances for agricultural and live stock purposes totaling $433,477,000 in thirty seven states had been approved up to November 30. Of this $12,853,000 went to 4400 banking institutions, $77,761,000 to 113 live stock loans companies and $172,827,000 to thirty two cooperative marketing associations.

Dr. and Mrs. I. C. Gibson and the son Wayne of Wallace will arrive here the last of the week and will spend the Christmas holidays at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Straight, who are Mrs. Gibson's parents.

Evelyn, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Schaeffer, is recovering from an attack of chickenpox. A smaller child in the family is also ill with the disease. J. Z. Robinson has been sick for the past few days.

J. F. Conaway of Washington, D. C., who is visiting relatives in Fairmont, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Z. Robinson yesterday.

Christmas Bazar
The Christmas bazar held by the members of the M. E. Ladies Aid Society proved to be a successful affair. More than $50 were cleared from the sale of articles and the lunch, which was served in connection with the bazar.

DIES IN PITTSBURGH.
A message received here announced the death of George Farley, a cousin of John McTeer of Piermont avenue, whose death occurred yesterday at the Mercy Hospital in Pittsburgh.

The increased sales of cigarettes in this country is attributed to the hundreds of thousands of women who have joined the ranks of smokers.

Act Quickly

Do the right thing at the right time. Act quickly in time of danger. In the time of kidney danger, Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective.

Plenty of Fairmont evidence of their worth. Ask your neighbor! Mrs. M. E. Smith, 217 Albert Court, Fairmont, says: "I had a slight attack of kidney trouble. For awhile my kidneys were in a weak condition and their free action was annoying. I also had a little trouble with my back. It ached if I did very much heavy work and I felt tired out and run down generally. A member of the family had used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results, so I thought they might help me. I used them for awhile and they brought relief. I am glad to recommend Doan's, because I know that at all times, Doan's Kidney Pills are the same. Do not simply ask for kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Smith had, Foster-Milburn Co., Mrs. Buffalo N. Y.

Lawson Martin of Henshaw visited friends here yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar C. Wilson
